Young man, buy one of those knobby hats, cheap, at Ober, Bond & Wilson's.

The Oak Dale Park Association has already commenced preparing for this Fall's Fair.

Dr. Freeman thinks that boy, born this morning, ought to make any man happy.

We defy the world on Teas, both in price and in quality. Ober, Bond & Wilson's.

Doc Nickles is exploring caves in the countenances of Junction City people, this week.

That school house bell—that school house bell, how much of a fraud its faint music tells.

The cheapest store in town—The New York Store.

Good Japan and extra Oolong Teas only fifty cents per pound, at Ober, Bond & Wilson's.

The woods and sounders about town are to be cut down by order of the city authorities.

Briggs & Gehhart have received a car of those celebrated John Deere and Gilpin Sinks Plows.

Two cars filled with U. S. soldiers were attached to the western-bound train last Thursday evening.

For choice, fresh Groceries, go to Ober, Bond & Wilson's.

Theo. Foster, who was shot at Carthage, Mo., by E. A. Hoag, was buried at Solomon City on the 6th.

The infant son born to Mr. and Mrs. S. Mapes, upon the Fourth of July, died last Tuesday.

Briggs & Gehhart have just received another carload of Kansas Wagons; also some Mitchell Weyons.

Green apples in the market. A good thing for the propagation of cholera morbus and the stomach ache.

Mr. Hugh Morrison has bought out Mr. A. Adams' interest in the milk trade, and now drives a milk wagon.

Mrs. Lieut. Ward started for North Carolina, Tuesday morning, and will visit with her relations there for several months.

Five hundred suits of Clothing for sale at the New York Store at almost your own prices. Call and see for yourselves.

Mr. Macomber and wife, living on Dry creek, started on a visit to their old home, in Evansville, Wisconsin, last evening.

Miss Fannie Beem, of Ottawa, Ill., niece of Mr. W. M. Clarkson, is visiting in this city, and is to remain here during the summer.

"One hundred years ago" they knew nothing of the splendid goods and cheap prices which can be found at the New York Store.

I will sell Organs and Pianos as low as they can East, or anywhere else. Call on me before purchasing elsewhere. H. HALL.

Five hundred sheep for sale by O. Hokanson, on Indian creek, about 4 miles south of Lindburg, McPherson county. O. HOKANSON.

CLOTHING, CLOTHING, cheap—cheap, cheapest, at Ober, Bond & Wilson's.

Litwisch & Wittmann, at the New York Store, are selling their goods at least twenty-five per cent. less than any other store in town. This is a fact.

Messrs. Long & Conrad have had their tornado-struck lightning rod wagon rebuilt and are now securing the country again with their lightning catchers.

Fresh fruit is obtainable in the market this season, but its value, financially, is so lousy that common people are constrained to check their fruit craving palates.

Don Whitehead has constructed a "stem-winder" (wind-power) machine—original design—which goes steady-by-jerks to the edification of the outside world.

Save $100 per year by buying your Groceries of Ober, Bond & Wilson.

Those interested in the establishment of a gymnasium are requested to meet at Donaghy's Hall, Friday evening, when steps will be taken towards organizing a club.

Rev. Father Wübert has on display at the Centennial exhibition a very convenient student's desk, which he invented while at school. Many of the desks are in use in eastern schools.

We will give you more Coffee for one dollar than any other firm in Kansas.

No. 1 White Fish, Mackerel, Trout, California Salmon and Herring, all for sale cheap, at Ober, Bond & Wilson's.

Farmers, call and examine those Hoosier Drills at Briggs & Gehhart's, before buying. They have just received a carload of them.

When you come to town don't fail to call at the New York Store and learn the prices of dry goods, clothing, dress goods and notions.

Lay takes pride in furnishing the best ice cream in the city. He offers to wheel the heaviest man in town one mile in a wheelbarrow, if anybody beats him.

We are not to suppose that life is but an empty dream because the man who stole a bridge down town the other day was unable to find a horse to match, if by reason of the stable door being securely locked.

As you laboriously make your way down street these hot days, drop into Litwisch & Wittmann's and examine their immense stock of elegant but cheap dry goods. You will certainly be delighted at the show.

What has become of that sidewalk which was to have been built on the west side of Santa Fe to Holland's addition? The ordinance was passed, but no work has yet been done. South Santa Fe people begin to complain.

A sack partially filled with groceries were left in my wagon last Saturday. The owner can have the same by calling at H. T. Watson's store and identifying the property.

A. ZIEBELL.

Mr. J. B. McGinnis returned home from the East Monday noon. His visit in Ohio was very pleasant, except that at the last he was taken sick and was unable to get about. He was thus prevented from attending the Centennial.

Mrs. W. R. Geis and Miss Kate Cantwell started for Pennsylvania yesterday morning. They will visit in Pittsburgh, Altoona and Johnstown. Mr. Geis accompanied the ladies as far as Kansas City, and will return this evening.

The frame of Robinson's elevator has been raised and the workmen are hard at work enclosing the building. A construction train is hauling the dirt for a side track to the elevator, and a force is at work leveling up the road bed. Everything has the appearance of business in that locality.

Here we are! Home again! And prepared to furnish all the boys with their summer and fall suits. Bring on your work. We will give you a fit and a suit which will take the premium anywhere. We aim to please, and please to aim at your affections. Give us a call. J. B. MCGINNIS.

Mr. Anson Kellogg, formerly a partner of Mr. C. Post, in this city, and of the firm of Gould & Kellogg, suffered a sun-stroke at Lawrence last Friday. His physician states that Mr. Kellogg is in the way of speedy recovery, although the escape was narrow.

I am now manufacturing my own harness, and the work is conceded by all competent judges to be superior to any ever seen in this section of the country. I warrant my work to be first class in every respect, and ask all those interested to call and examine it. C. HOLMQUIST.

The boys who bathe in the Smoky and display their nude forms just as the steamer loaded with ladies passes, may think there is no danger; but if the marshal gets after them, as he is empowered to do by ordinance, they will think there is a calaboose. It is shame that these fellows do not have a greater regard for common decency.

If you want to sell land, go to Wight & Carroll. If you want to buy your property, go to Wight & Carroll. If you want to insure your crops against damage, by the elements, drought, army worm, &c., go to Wight & Carroll. If you want to insure your life, go to Wight & Carroll. If you want to borrow money, go to Wight & Carroll.

Litwisch & Wittmann's clothing store is still selling ready made clothing at way down prices, and any one in need of a suit of clothes will do well to call at this place for them. You will always find a large stock to select from, and you will find an excellent quality of goods at low prices. They not only keep this class of clothes, but have also a good line of summer clothing.

The Topeka Commonwealth states that the new crop of wheat is being marketed and says: Tom Coddington, who had a very fine yield of good quality, is hauling his to town; he gets 90 cents. It is reported that the price at Abilene and Salina is $1.03. If this is so it would seem as if the wheat growers in this section should get as much as is paid a hundred and fifty miles west of here, especially when the grain is of equal grade—as it is represented to be this season.

We were greatly pleased to meet an old-time acquaintance, Mr. J. M. Coombs, last Monday. Mr. Coombs now has charge of the Ellis stock yard, and is acting as deputy sheriff of this county; and we would take this occasion to warn all evil-doers that he is a man of nerve. Mr. Coombs has been on the extreme verge of civilization for the past sixteen years, and has been instrumental in capturing a large number of criminals. He lately captured three horse thieves at Lincoln. —Hays City Sentinel.

Mr. J. C. Johnson left again for Missouri this morning, for the purpose of purchasing horses and mares for the Salina market. He will purchase good heavy stock—the best ever brought into this market. He will return next week Wednesday. Farmers and others should be on hand to invest in just such stock as they need, and that which will please them at first sight. Be on hand promptly, before they are picked over, and get bargains.

Lieut. Ward has received intelligence from Wallace that a band of Arrapahoes and Cheyennes had corralled three drovers in the vicinity of that place, and that a company of cavalry had been in pursuit of them for three days, and had not been heard from up to the time of writing. He is of the opinion that the tribes referred to are acting in concert with the Sioux, their object being to divert attention from the latter's operation and prevent troops in the section from joining General Crook.

The financial committee for the Fourth of July ask that those holding masks, flags, and other articles furnished to them on the Fourth, to return them immediately to Oscar Seitz or H. R. Geis. An auction will be held at the corner of Santa Fe and Iron Avenues next Saturday, at which time and place all these articles will be sold to the highest bidder. The committee lack some twenty-three dollars of having enough money to defray the Fourth of July expenses, and the above mentioned articles are to be sold to make up the deficiency.

Having about finished their harvesting, our farmers will want a good fanning mill to clean their grain, and we would suggest to them that they will have to try a great many mills before they find one as good in every respect as the "Climax," manufactured in Salina, by Mr. W. J. Sullivan. Mr. Sullivan has worked at that business many years and manufactures on his own patent and improvements. We are pleased to note that substantial, steady growth which his business has sustained, and opine that at no very distant day his will be a leading manufacturing establishment of this State.

Lemonade at Lay's.
Mrs. A. T. Grier is now in receipt of Spring and Summer styles for 1876, and will do her best to please.

Mr. John Boyd has purchased of W. C. Berry the lot on Santa Fe avenue, on which the building occupied by James Murphy's boot and shoe store was burned, and is about to commence the erection of a one story brick building, 50x25 feet, for a shoe shop.

We understand that Mr. W. R. Geis is making arrangements for the extension of the block just west of Ober, Bond & Wilson's store to the corner of Iron Avenue and Seventh street. It is said that the corner will be built the finest building in town—the upper story to be devoted entirely to a public hall. Mr. Geis is just the man to proceed with such an enterprise, and we thus have no doubt that the building will be put up as intended. Mr. Geis is worth thousands of dollars to Salina, and his fellow citizens all admit that he stands first among the public spirited. Everything he does in the way of building and improving is substantial and in first-class shape. May his tribe increase!

Mr. Alexander McPherson informs us that the Roxbury, McPherson county, people celebrated the Fourth satisfactorily by holding a basket picnic near that place. Speeches were delivered by Messrs. John McPhail, Neil and Joseph Tolle. The Declaration of Independence was read by Mr. Lasourd. Some three hundred people were present, all of whom seemed pleased with the programme of the day. After dinner a game of baseball was played between the Lone Star and Roxbury clubs—the score standing eight and eight, with five whitesashes for the Roxbury and three for the Lone Stars. It was a spirited, lively contested game—one of the best ever played in this portion of the State.

A few days ago we received a missive containing the following "bill of particulars": "Mr. and Mrs. C. T. Merry request the pleasure of your company at the marriage of their daughter, Tuesday morning, July 11th, at half past ten o'clock. Norwalk, Ohio, 1876. Albert W. Wickham. Della J. Merry." From this we suppose we are to take it for granted that on last Tuesday Al. Wickham, with his fair companion, commenced journeying—by the still waters and in the green pastures—of that matrimonial Canaan so dear to all mortals. And may the songs of the birds and the fragrance of sweet flowers of that ideal land be present with them in the real land, and may their happiness be just as complete years hence when the silver threads shall mingle with the gold.

We have plenty of ice for our own use, and expect to supply the city with ice cream during the entire season. Call at our place and get your ice cream. G. J. LAY & BRO.

An excursion party took possession of the steamer last Friday evening and made a trip to the upper dam and back. It was a moonlight excursion, and such a one as all the party will be willing to make again. The full moon, surrounded by a rich drapery of clouds, shed its silvery beams through the branches on the water, and along the bright and shining path-way of the graceful little steamer sped, laden with its cargo of enchanted ladies and gentlemen. The music came at intervals from the "raft" part of the ship, and that, too, was charming. The landscape in the soft moonlight, the interlacing branches above, the beautiful beads, the delightful "head wind"—all contributed much pleasure, and the exclamations of the ladies regarding the "fine points" in the scenery were always made with the superlative degree of comparison.

One more victim of the terrible storm of June 7th has gone to his last account. After a long and painful illness, incident to injuries received during the tornado, Charles Whitney departed this life July 10th, at 12 o'clock. Mr. Whitney was born at Athens, Windsor county, Vermont, on the 18th of September, 1811. He was once a member of the Vermont Legislature, and had held other public positions in his country. He came to Salina county about six years ago. He leaves a wife and one child. His funeral took place last Friday. Mr. Whitney was a straightforward, outspoken man, honest in his dealings with his fellow-men, kind hearted, too, though his brusque manners often led people to believe to the contrary. By all who knew him intimately, he was highly esteemed. There are many men whom our community could better afford to lose than Charles Whitney.

Mr. Wm. R. Geis has very generously tendered to the committee having in charge the general arrangements for the Methodist District camp-meeting of the year of Oak Dale Park and Exhibition Hall, free of charge, giving them control of the whole grounds, during their proposed camp meeting to be held in August reserving only the right to sell such refreshments as the committee may approve of. This offer will probably be accepted by the committee. This arrangement affords an opportunity for many of the residents of Salina to attend the services who could not had camping at a distance been chosen, and the grounds privileges in the park could not well be improved on. The owners of the Belle of Salina will reduce the rate of fare to 20 cents for the round trip (to the grounds and back), and also propose to sell tickets for six trips at 50 cents to those who wish to attend the morning, afternoon and evening services and return home immediately after each service. We hope the meetings will be well attended and that much good will result to the people from them.

Yesterday morning Col. S. M. Palmer, Major N. Peterson, C. L. Allen and a representative of the Journal drove out to John Shipple's farm, on the Saline river, to witness the working of a Walter A. Wood's Self Binder. Arriving on the farm, the party found Mr. Shipple at work in a field of oats with his machine—the happiest, best natured man we have seen for a long time, over its movements. The oats in which the machine was at work were badly lodged, yet we could not perceive that this had any material effect upon its operation. Not a straw was left on the field; the bundles were securely bound, and in being tossed lightly from the binder, they almost invariably lit on the butt of the bundle, thereby preventing the threshing out of grain where it is very ripe. Mr. Shipple said that the machine is not complicated; is easily handled, and he is "mighty glad I bought that machine." Its working seems to us to have been perfect in Mr. Shipple's hands. These were some of our observations made while following the machine once around the field, which was cutting a swath about five feet wide, and we make no attempt to describe the principle on which it works. Simplicity, durability and good work is what is wanted by farmers, and we believe that machine possesses these qualities. Others in this county—Messrs. Frank Wilkinson, John Kingman, Geo. Smith and Col. W. S. Alexander—have the Wood's Self Binder, and we understand they propose to give their written opinion of its merits. Smartz Bros. are agents in this county.

LADIES AND GENTLEMEN—You will save ten percent; also have your paper trimmed free of charge. A. T. GRIER.

Week before last we recorded a broil between two Amazons, up the Saline—the result of an alleged attempt to allure by a gay and festive widow an innocent and aged man from the path of virtue. In concluding the account we stated that the man escaped unharmed. Now, what provoked the old lady? We do not learn, but last week Wednesday she made sad havoc with the old man's face, and "ruined" the last sentence of the statement referred to. It seems that she was not satisfied with the conquest of the wily widow, and had been tossing up grid-irons, rolling-pins, etc., into the air and catching them, as they came down, without a bend in her back, until, apparently satisfied with her skill in handling unaimed projectiles, she concluded to have something to throw at. She picked up a keen-edged wedge and let drive at the old man's head, hitting him under the eye, inflicting a frightful wound and knocking him senseless. She evidently improves by age, (being over 75 now), and her neighborly spirit that when she becomes a companion she can "club over" anyone in the state.

The mania for looking upon antique things has become irresistible among all classes of people. The most sedate man or woman that lives will "caper all over the plantation" if only an article of Revolutionary days is brought out for exhibition. But the greatest curiosity of the times—one which should shine at the Centennial exhibition—is now exhibited at the office of Maj. Berks. It is a gavel—a simple gavel—but a gavel which has history. The presiding officer used it vigorously when Demosthenes was thundering away with his Philippics. Through all succeeding centuries it was carefully transmitted until it was finally used in the great American House of Representatives. It was put upon the retired list only after the immortal words were used: "Here the hammer fell," in the midst of a Kansas Congressman's speech, when it was carefully wrapped up and expressed to Maj. Berks. It is jammed and mutilated, mildewed and browned by age and vigorous use, but is still good for a few more centuries of active exercise. If you will call at Maj. Berks' office he will show you this very old, old order-preserving engine of deliberative assemblies.

Miss Lottie Burr, a young lady of culture and possessing a fair amount of good looks, and well connected, having resided in the neighborhood for many years, conceived the unusual idea of forming an attachment for one Henry Powers, a great lazy, repulsive, one-eyed negro. Powers, some months ago, was employed by Mr. Burr as a farm hand, and while acting in that capacity the father discovered that all was not right, and drove the negro from the place. It seems Miss Burr and the negro were privately married at Osceola by the colored preacher. After being driven off by Mr. Burr, the negro was in the habit of visiting the farm during his absence. There can be no doubt regarding their marriage, as a letter was received from Miss Burr to Powers, in which she addressed him as her "dear husband." Miss Burr signed her letter "Lottie Burr," and her father thought it was a joke, and acted in the capacity of porter or servant, taking her baggage to the depot. Here she gave him money, reminding him that it was money her father owed him. They left on the train together, and are supposed to have gone to Salina, Kansas, as Powers told Miss Burr, in his letter, that he was in Salina with his wife, and they were on their way to that place. —Appleton City (Mo.) Journal.

The distinguished couple above referred to duly arrived in this city last evening and are cordially ensigned at "Colored Kate's" residence, near the depot.

For the Centennial.

Pullman Palace Sleeping cars and day coaches from Kansas City to Ft. Wayne and Cleveland without change, via the Washburn Line.

Connecting at Ft. Wayne with through sleepers to Chicago, and at Cleveland with through sleepers to New York and Boston, making but one change of cars from the Missouri river to the "Centennial" at New York and Boston.

The Washburn Line is also the most comfortable route to Indianapolis, Cincinnati and other Eastern cities.

Passengers taking this line have choice of routes either via Quincy or St. Louis, and can visit all principal cities, wintering places and prominent resorts throughout the country without extra charge.

Homes and Fortunes for All—Grand Distribution of Cash, Farms, Brick Blocks, Residences, Etc., Etc.

THE KANSAS LAND AND IMMIGRANT ASSOCIATION—INCORPORATED 1876—CAPITAL STOCK, $1,000,000. LEGALLY AUTHORIZED.

The Kansas Land and Immigrant Association, of Abilene, Kansas, an enterprise chartered by the State, inaugurated and managed by men whose reputation for honesty, reliability and integrity stands unassailed, and who have the hearty endorsement of State and city officials and citizens—will, on the 21st day of August, 1876, make a grand distribution to its shareholders of many valuable awards of cash and real estate. Highest cash awards, $75,000. Lowest, $25. The real estate awards, consisting of choice farms, business houses, residences, etc., have been selected from the most desirable and valuable property in the State. Prices of shares only $5.00 each. Every shareholder will be fairly represented at the distribution. The chances offered to secure a home and a fortune are unprecedented. Distribution positive, August 21, 1876, or money will be refunded in full.

Send in your order at once, so you may have your numbers carefully registered. For a more particular description of the enterprise, terms of agents, special offer to clubs, and purchasers of two or more shares, manner of drawing, list of endowments and references, description, etc., etc., send for their illustrated paper—the "Kansas Immigrant," mailed free to any address. Send $5.00 for a share. Address: S. M. STRICKLAND, Secretary, Abilene, Kansas.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

Disolution Notice.

THIS partnership heretofore existing between A. Shute & A. F. Hawley, under the firm name of Shute & Hawley, in the meat market business, has been dissolved by mutual consent. Mr. Shute, and Mr. A. F. Hawley will pay all debts owing to the firm, and collect all accounts owing the firm.

A. F. SHUTE, A. F. HAWLEY.
